Ugborough and Bittaford Pre- School. Naomi Williams

During October children, staff and relatives celebrated Harvest Festival in our pre-school, which involved singing a lovely selection of songs like "Dingle dangle scarecrow", "Oats and beans and barley grow" and "The Little Red Hen" rap. Father Harry kindly attended and presented prizes to the winners of the scarecrow colouring competition. To finish off a very enjoyable afternoon everyone was invited to stay for refreshments of bread rolls and vegetable soup which the children had helped to make.

In November parents will be invited to join us for this term's "Stay and Play" week which begins on Monday 14th, when they can spend time playing with the children and understanding how staff encourage and develop their child's learning. On Monday 12th December we will hold our "Christmas sing-a-long" to which family and friends are invited, and the last day of autumn term will be Friday 16th December.

At Ugborough and Bittaford Pre-School we offer an experience that has been judged "Outstanding" by Ofsted in March 2011 who awarded us this standard in every single category. Children can join us from the age of 2 until school age and we fill these precious years with fun and friendship in a stimulating, well-resourced environment. We strive to build on the development that takes place at home; by fostering independence, creativity and learning new skills with appropriate support through a play-based curriculum. We are open term-time only on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday between 9am and 3pm, and on Tuesday and Friday between 9am and 12.45pm. The Toddler Group meets on Monday between 10am and 11.30am. For more information on the pre-school please call Tania/Naomi on 07763 215455 or phone Sara on 07739 826422 for Toddler Group enquiries. Book Lovers Anne Nonymous

For the under fives. The Deep End - Rebecca Patterson.

Rebecca Paterson is a new talent in children's picture books - this is her first book. Delightfully illustrated with the representation of the children, simple but expressive, The Deep End is the home to the best swimmers.... but is it true, there's also a tunnel in the deep end that leads to the sea? There is only one way to find out and it involves 'keeping your head down, your bottom up and not swallowing the pool'.

A lovely book and one that I shall be keeping in mind for the grand-daughter.

The Day of the Triffids - John Wyndham

I had forgotten how good this book was - a real page turner.

A chilling British science fiction story, that opens one's eyes to the true nature of the world. A story of love, immense tragedy, of politics, of the fragility of modern life and above all the undeniable essential nature of mankind.

This fantastic journey into the demise of society after a tragic event leaves the majority of the population blind. The triffids, themselves, are a haunting, menacing presence, ever the opportunist, they communicate and track their prey. The sighted people are on a journey trying to find the right course of action, torn between helping those less fortunate and keeping themselves alive.

I was so pleased that I read this book again, it will remain as a certain favourite.

Ugborough Village Hall Stafford Williams (Secretary)

Many thanks are due to the Fair Committee and the organisers of the many contributing events for the £929 that the Hall received this year. Without such donations the Hall would struggle to meet its commitments despite a healthy rate of hirings. The Hall is the cheapest for miles around and such donations are crucial in providing affordable facilities to all.

We have now transferred the bookings system for the Village Hall from the Post Office Diary to an on-line mechanism at the Ugborough.com website. Here you will find a tab on the menu of options at the left side of the screen 'Ugborough Village Hall' - click on it and 'What is on' to get sight of the diary, or 'To book the Hall' to complete the booking form. There are some bugs that are being ironed out, but this system should allow everyone to continue making bookings. If you make a booking please ensure you get an acknowledgement from the Bookings Secretary, Steve Hughes as some e-mails have not been getting through - I hope that we will soon sort the glitches.

The upstairs cupboard was cleaned out and sorted by a willing gang of volunteers, which should mean that you can get in and out somewhat easier. Please try and follow the guidance posted in the cupboard to keep it as orderly as possible. If anyone knows where the top of the Henry vacuum cleaner is please let a committee member know.

SPORTS REPORT - Janner Motson

U11s CLEAR ON TOP

The U11s continued their unbeaten league season with a trouncing of second place Totnes and a dominant display throughout the game. Whilst the outfield players passed the ball and moved brilliantly, special mention should go to Jack between the sticks, who pulled off several big saves and always seemed to be in the right place at the right time. Another feature of the Uggies game lately is the contribution from all players with Alfie, Felix and now Leon all getting on the score sheet. This team is doing well, but Manager Sean still wants to hear from those who want to join the squad, or return from other sports.

The U9s have also continued winning and similarly have increasing depth to the squad, which is beginning to heave at 16 players. If it goes on like this they will need 2 teams next year, but it bodes very well for the future of Uggies football. The U7s already have 8 players and are building in readiness for their inaugural season in 2012.

The U13s are out of both cups despite a heroic display in the County Cup at Buckland, where they only lost in the last 2 minutes of extra time. The first division team had underestimated the talent and determination of the Uggies, who were 1-3 up at one stage. Unfortunately, owing to the wind and rain the Uggies lost again in the League Cup to Chudleigh, having had good opportunities to turn it around, but now they will focus on their solid start to the league season. Manager, Mike Bassett-Rutherford told Sports Report; "The Uggies don't play well without the ball. We didn't underestimate Chudleigh, they just played a lot better than we thought they would. The first half was end-to-end, but the second in contrast, was one end to the other. From what I saw of the game I watched an awful lot of it." It just goes to prove great managers don't have to be ugly and swear a lot!

Every Thursday morning between 10 and 12 the Drop-In Centre is open in Ugborough Church serving coffee/tea/biscuits and cake.

If you have just moved into the area or have lived here for years it is a wonderful opportunity to meet up with friends and neighbours.

Do please come.

(Look out for news about the future Post Office service in the church at this time- it's coming soon!)

Stop Press- A Warmer Church this winter!

St. Peter's Church has been successful in the application for funding from the Diocese for temporary heating in the communal area. Thanks to Peter Povey, Philip Mann and Adrian Southwood for their work in securing this.

Your Stars Tonight.

The steamed dieter is looking much refreshed from her trip to Seville and the clicking of her keyboard has conspicuously Flamenco rhythm as she crouches behind her laptop. Outside in the distinctly cool November night I look up to Jupiter blazing bright in the southern sky. As always it is a lovely sight when viewed through binoculars as the four Galilean moons continue their strictly ballroom cosmic dance around Jupiter which is looking much smarter now that its second orange band (which disappeared last year) has returned. (Congratulations to Ugborough resident "Little J" who managed to capture the moons of Jupiter using a hand held video camera in her back garden - one of the better home videos of 2011).

To the left of Jupiter look for the bright orange star which is Aldebaran. It is the base of a V of stars that after a few seconds (and with a little imagination) transmutes into the head of a charging bull - you have found the constellation of Taurus. Taurus is also home of the Pleiades group - a little cluster of six stars easily visible just above Aldebaran and Jupiter. With binoculars many more stars become visible - and it is now known that the Pleiades is a star nursery made up of young stars only a few million years old - by astronomical standards they are still in their nappies.

If it's a clear night go back to Aldebaran and you will see a host of faint stars around it - another large and loosely grouped cluster of stars. The Greeks called them Hyades after the daughters of Atlas (the one with the world supportive shoulders not the one who had problems on sandy beaches). They were immortalised in the heavens because they pined away and died of sorrow after the death of their brother, Hyas, who had been gored by a wild boar.

"Thinking about bulls and Hyas has given me a great idea for the 2012 Ugborough Fair," I excitedly explain to the steamed dieter. "A Spanish Style bull run as the Grand Finale - we could release a couple of bulls from the Anchor car park and the young bloods of Ugborough could compete to ride them to the Ship and then down Donkey Lane, and the gals could all lean out of the bedroom windows round the square and shower us with red roses." "And you will be Hairless the village bore" she mutters under her breath.

Vici Hemming writes-

BT has brought high speed broadband to Ivybridge and Bittaford but contrary to promises and information on the website has NOT brought it to Ugborough.

We have been promised high speed broadband for the last year and I have spoken to several BT Openreach engineers over the year who have all said that the system would improve with the new optical cable. They constantly have to try and maintain a very poor and unreliable service through the box at the end of Seldons Close. When the copper cable was stolen the engineers said it was a shame as the optical cable was already there and it would go live in September. However, it now seems we are not due to get any of this high speed internet connectivity and are stuck with speeds less than 2mb rather than the 25mb that would be possible. If you are interested in contacting BT to complain that we have been missed out, the address is- BT Broadband Complaints, Freepost NWW7492A, Gateshead, NE82 6YO The engineer today said the more people complain the more we are likely to get something done about it ...

email: ugboroughpc@yahoo.co.uk

Website: www.ugboroughparishcouncil.gov.uk

Ugborough village hall committee room was full to capacity at the start of the October Parish Council Meeting, as a host of very different organisations lined up to talk to the Parish Council:

New Dartmoor National Park Parish Member John Nutley introduced himself and discussed issues affecting Bittaford and Wrangaton. He has asked that any concerns be relayed to him - a very welcome development and a far cry from our previous experience of DNP Parish Members.

Tall Oak Homes outlined its proposals for the land behind Undertown. These include about 45 houses, most of which would be low cost and reserved for local families through a Community Development Trust. The village would benefit from additional parking, open space play area, wildlife pond, flood prevention scheme and a new community building - which would incorporate a village hall, self contained pre-school area, catering facility, village shop and youth group facility. Issues, such as the access through Undertown, still need to be resolved and the Parish Council will be involved in the progress of the scheme.

Playdale Playgrounds presented its proposals for the Bittaford and Ugborough play areas. I just wish I was a child again, because the facilities they are proposing sound fantastic! The Parish Council will be deciding on the provision and applying for grant funding over the next few months.

Ermington and Ugborough Primary Federation Governor Ian McClure reported on progress on what is now called the Beacon Federation and, apparently, the catering facilities have already improved. Governors Meetings are open to the public and the minutes are published on www.ugborough-primary.devon.sch.uk

The Localism Bill, which should become law at the end of the year, represents an opportunity for Ugborough to develop a Neighbourhood Development Plan. This is particularly important in the light of the development proposals put forward by Tall Oak Homes. A Working Group of 6 Councillors will be investigating the possibilities and liaising with Tall Oak Homes.

Ice and snow may only be just round the corner, and the Parish Council is finalising arrangements to grit some of the lanes. Cllr Ed Johns is our Snow Warden and details, such as the purchase of a spreader and storage of grit, were discussed at the meeting. Additional grit bins will be supplied at Bittaford Hill and Marwood Cross.

Planning Applications Councillors supported the proposed porch at Ugborough House; the replacement sign at Carew Service Station; and the alterations, 2 new porches and link building at Hays Farm, Ludbrook. They raised no objection to the erection of agricultural sock buildings and store at Ludbrook; the amendments to the planning permission at High House, Donkey Lane, Ugborough; and the single garage and log store at The Retreat, Shute Lane, Wrangaton. No objections were raised to the retrospective application for change of use of agricultural machinery store to workshop, together with extension at Wood Farm, Ugborough, subject to a condition that the usage be restricted to agriculture or leisure.

The Police Report (which missed the meeting) included a variety of 10 different crimes, including false representation, harassment, theft, public order, burglary and criminal damage. The criminal damage related to graffiti, and I am pleased to report that the offender had to clean it off!

Of significance is the introduction of a new 101 police phone number for non-urgent crimes and policing issues within the community. Calls to 101 cost 15p per call, irrespective of the length of the call and applies to landlines and mobiles. This replaces the former 08542 777444 number - but the 999 number should still be used for emergencies, when a crime is in progress, when there is danger to life or when violence is used or threatened.

Parish Boundary changes have been suggested by Ivybridge Town Council, which is proposing that the western portion of Ugborough parish be annexed by Ivybridge. So far, no specific boundaries have been identified, but the presumption is that all those sites identified for development to the east of Ivybridge would then come under their administration. If you have any views on this proposal, please let the Clerk know.

The Next Meeting will be at 7.30pm on Wednesday 9th November, and you are welcome to attend. Agenda and minutes are displayed on the Council's noticeboards and website.

St Peter's Church, Ugborough

My dear Friends,

I'm one of those sorts of people who like to have a useful result from holidays alongside the period of recreation. So when we had our relaxing and therapeutic time in Northumbria - also a sort of Pilgrimage for many reasons including the fact that Philip and I met when at University in Durham - we topped and tailed that with visits to family, friends and the remaining congregation of St. John's, Gainsborough, where Philip was Vicar in the 1970s.

They supplied us with a parish magazine with an item copied from that of St. Oswald's, Filey. Never one to waste good food for either body or soul, I've brought the item back to regurgitate down here! It provides food for thought for our family, work and Church lives. I hope chewing this cud may be profitable for us all!!

Know your Taters.

Some people never seem motivated to participate, but are just content to watch while others do the work. They are called "Spec Taters".

Some people never do anything to help, but are gifted at finding fault with the way others do the work. They are called "Comment Taters".

Some people are very bossy and like to tell others what to do, but don't want to soil their own hands. They are called "Dick Taters".

Some people are always looking to cause problems by asking others to agree with them. It is too hot or too cold, too sour or too sweet. They are called "Agie Taters".

There are those who say they will help, but somehow never get round actually to doing the promised help. They are called "Hezzie Taters".

Some people can put up a front and pretend to be someone they are not. They are called "Immy Taters".

Then there are those who love others and do what they say they will. They are always prepared to stop whatever they are doing and lend a helping hand. They can always manage a smile and kind word. They bring real sunshine into the lives of others. They are called "Sweet Po Taters".

Which are you?

In this month of Remembrance, we shall also want to give thanks for those of the last category who have brought sunshine into our lives.

With good wishes to you all, Caroline

We've had a request from the Cathedral, who are organising a mammoth Flower Festival in July next year, that anyone in the diocese who would like to help in any way - arranging, stewarding, brushing up etc. etc. - should get in touch as soon as possible with Mrs. Nicky Wright, who is co-ordinating the event.
